Dripping Springs Farmers Market Vendor Social and Orientation March 23rd

Date: March 11, 2016

DRIPPING SPRINGS, TEXAS – Now in their eighth year of fresh produce, handcrafted items, and friendly vendors, Dripping Springs Farmers Market (DSFM) has proven to be a vibrant and growing market each week. Attracting scores of people from the region, it has never been a better time to consider becoming a vendor.

The Farmers Market Board will host a light meal and orientation for current, new, or interested vendors on Wednesday, March 23rd at Veterans Memorial Park at approximately 7:15 pm, following the market. Everyone will gather next door at the VFW Hall to enjoy dinner and drinks provided by the Dripping Springs Farmers Market Board.

The board members will introduce their new Market Manager Laurel Robertson, present a new marketing plan, and provide other important market information, such as the Market Rules & Regulations and other vendor applications. Participants are asked to RSVP at farmersmarket@cityofdrippingsprings.com.

Prospective vendors are encouraged to attend. Farmers Market Association Board Chair Marianne Simmons said if you have any questions about the coming season or have ever been interested in becoming a vendor, you will want to come to this meeting and learn more.

“If you have a big garden with seasonal abundance or make a great product that you would like to sell, our market might be an opportunity. We are looking for local products that complement what we currently offer,” Simmons said. “We are a growing producer-only market and appeal to the local farmers and makers.”

DSFM is a mid-week market, open Wednesdays from 3 to 7 pm, and located at the center of town at the intersection of HWY 290 & RR12 in the Veterans Memorial Park.

Check the Dripping Springs Farmers Market web site at www.cityofdrippingsprings.com for the Farmers Market Rules and Regulations and other market-related information. To make reservations for the vendor social or learn how to become a vendor, please email farmersmarket@cityofdrippingsprings.com.
